PERCY PUPPY'S PINT-SIZED PRAYER PROMPTS

The Lord is close to everyone who prays to him, to all who truly pray to him.
(Psalm 145:18 ICB)

Jesus loves you completely, exactly as you are. He is always with you, ready to listen. Prayer is simply talking to Him—anytime, anywhere, about anything. You don't need fancy words or thoughts, but sometimes, it's hard to begin. Percy Puppy wrote 12 prayer prompts to help you share your happy thoughts, big feelings, and those things that are really hard to talk about.

PERCY PUPPY'S PRAYER PROMPTS

1. God, today I want to tell You about something important to me…

PERCY PUPPY TALKS TO JESUS

Percy Puppy was having one of those days. His ears felt droopy, his paws felt heavy, and his tail wouldn't wag. Percy sighed and plopped down on the grass.

"I don't know what to do," He whimpered softly.

The sky was bright blue, but Percy's heart felt cloudy. He felt different; he missed running fast like he used to, and he missed chasing his favorite ball.

A breeze rustled the leaves and Percy felt a little nudge in his heart. "Maybe I should pray," he thought. "But what do I even say?" Percy started with something simple. "Jesus," he whispered, "it's me."

Nothing fancy. No big words. Just Percy being Percy—and guess what? Jesus was already listening.

Percy told Jesus about his tired paws and the tight feeling in his heart when he felt left out and different. As Percy prayed, his heart began to feel lighter.

The Sonshine Squad started gathering under the oak tree. "Percy! There you are!" fluttered Brielle Butterfly. "What are you doing?"

"Praying," said Percy quietly.

"What about?"asked Henry Hedgehog.

"My ears feel droopy, my paws feel tired, and I'm feeling different."

That gave Brielle an idea. The three friends sat in a circle on the grass, and one by one, they talked to Jesus.

"Help me to be a good friend," fluttered Brielle.

"Jesus, remind me to ask Percy how he's feeling when his ears are droopy." prayed Henry.

When it was Percy's turn, he said, "Jesus, thank You for making me brave today by telling You and my friends how I'm feeling. Amen." Suddenly, Percy's tail wagged and the three friends laughed.

Percy still has days when his paws feel tired, and his heart feels cloudy, but he's learned something important: He can talk to Jesus anytime, anywhere, about anything, just as he is.

Now it's your turn. Choose one of Percy's prompts and talk Jesus. He is always ready to listen!
